

Jacquie Brazier

- Psychologist
- Coach
- Facilitator

Described by her clients as:

- Expert in the psychological theory and models which underpin her coaching and consulting work
- Driven to bring about understanding and raise self and other awareness
- Solution focused rather than dwell on what is wrong she will divert energy into talking about solutions and the way forward
- Engaged and committed to her clients, their organisation, their values and goals to bring about success

And the small print:

Jacquie is a Chartered Psychologist (HCPC registered), Coaching Psychologist, former research fellow (Surrey University) and small business owner. She is qualified and experienced in administering, interpreting and feeding back on a number of ability and personality instruments. Jacquie has worked as a senior consultant for deWinton-Williams on a wide range of projects for the past 8 years.

Jacquie brings a high level of experience, energy and practicality to her work. Her strengths lie in relationship building, developing others and collaboration. Jacquie is a Trustee of Mechanics for Africa (a UK based charity) and a listening volunteer for Samaritans.
